ABOUT

As a FrontEnd developer with strong Design skills & DesignOps, I work across multiple product design areas, such as interaction, motion, UX, and UI, with more than 10 years of experience in the field.

My core competencies include designing and developing digital products, using Nuxt/Vue/React, that meet the needs and expectations of users and clients. I also specialize in bridging the gap between designers and developers, creating a better design/developer experience (DX) and implementing DesignOps and GitOps practices. I am passionate about leveraging design and technology to create positive social impact and improve people's lives.

I have knowledge in other technologies, as AWS Deployment, Docker, C#, C++, Flutter, Java and others.
